

universität wien

Faculty of Historical and Cultural Studies

National Ossolinski
Institute

200 years of the Museum of the Lubomirski Princes

Invitation to the exhibition opening in the University's left-side hall (Universitätsring 1, 1010 Vienna) on Friday, 4 October 2024, 15:00

The exhibition is open throughout October.

The Museum of the Lubomirski Princes is one of the oldest Polish museums and the first of its kind in Lviv. It is a part of the National Ossoliński Institute (the Ossolineum), known for its valuable collections, excellent publishing activity and its extraordinary history that reflects the dramatic fate of Poles in the 19th and 20th centuries.

Programme

---

15:00, University's side hall

Welcome

Sebastian Schütze (Rector)

Gerald Moers

(Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Historical and Cultural Studies)

Łukasz Kamiński

(Director of the National Ossoliński Institute)

Christoph Augustynowicz

(Head of the Department of East European History)

15:30, Erika-Weinzierl lecture hall

Łukasz Kamiński:

The history of the Ossolineum as a mirror of Polish history

17:00, University's side hall:

Come together, sandwiches and wine